

Paul Helliwell rites tomorrow

Services for Paul Helliwell, 62, a Miami lawyer instrumental in the purchase of the Disney World site in Central Florida, will be at 10 a.m. tomorrow in Lithgow Coral Way Funeral Home.

Mr. Helliwell died Friday from a collapsed lung. He suffered from emphysema, and lost consciousness in his Coral Gables home, police said. Rescuers' efforts were in vain.

Mr. Helliwell was a graduate of the University of Florida law school and had numerous business connections. He was board chairman of banks in Perrine and Cutler Ridge, and was active in the insurance industry.

Ten years ago, Mr. Helliwell acquired much of the real estate southwest of Orlando where Walt Disney wanted to build an amusement park. Disney interests refrained from making the purchases openly for fear that disclosure would boost prices.

Mr. Helliwell was the United States counsel for the Castle Bank and Trust Company Ltd. of the Bahamas, a bank being investigated by a federal grand jury involving alleged tax havens for American corporations and individuals.

He is survived by his wife, Marjorie, and a daughter, Anne.

Services tomorrow for gas victim, 14

Funeral services will be at 11:30 a.m. tomorrow for James Allen Brown, 14, who died of carbon monoxide poisoning when he went to sleep in the boiler room of a Hialeah apartment complex.

The youth had gone to the apartment Tuesday night after he had planned to spend the night with a friend at another address in Hialeah where there was no room for him, his family said. His body was found Friday.

James Allen was a student at Carol City Junior High School and a member of Boy Scout troop 529. Services will be at Lowe Hanks Palm Springs, 4850 Palm Ave.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Allen Brown; sisters Linda and Shelli, and brothers Richard, Bradley and Joseph.

4 A

3

THE MIAMI NEWS

Monday, December 27, 1976

BRIEFLY

BRIEFLY

... IN THE NEWS

Ford recalls triumphs, failures in presidency

Continued from Page 1A
people, there was distrust of people for their government and Washington...

Hotel owner confronts strikers

Continued from Page 1A
a slow-moving line of strikers. Some of the strikers hanging on the truck but there were no further problems.

Passenger buckled to stretcher is eased from wreck

Continued from Page 1A
Amtrak spokesman said that the passenger was treated for minor injuries, an Amtrak spokesman said.

Amtrak train derailed; 36 treated for injury

Continued from Page 1A
DOWNTOWN, Pa. — The Broadway Limited Amtrak passenger train derailed here last night, sending 36 people to hospitals for treatment of minor injuries, an Amtrak spokesman said.

Continued from Page 1A
Coast Guard Lt. Tony Tangelman said sailboat owner Ronald Labitsky of Fort Lauderdale and six passengers who had been aboard the 43-foot 'Grenadine' went home yesterday.

Las Vegas warned of test site blast

Continued from Page 1A
LAS VEGAS — An underground blast expected to rattle windows and sway tall buildings in Las Vegas is scheduled for 10 a.m. tomorrow at the Nevada Test Site north of here.

Continued from Page 1A
They were seen Christmas Eve by the crew of the Prima Vera. "The Prima Vera rodei out for the front of the hotel," he said. Two men inside, both of them galled, went to work. They did.

Las Vegas warned of test site blast

Continued from Page 1A
The Amtrak spokesman said 95 of those taken to the gymnasium were used to Harboursburg to continue their trip to Chicago, four were placed in a local motel, and the rest returned to their homes here.

Rats gorge on rice from Venezuela crop

Continued from Page 1A
The assault by the hordes of rats in the rice fields below the Guarcito Reservoir, which normally produce half of Venezuela's supply, have been called a national calamity. The rats eat their weight in rice each day.

Air crash kills Navy man and kids

Continued from Page 1A
CRAWFORDVILLE, Fla. — A Navy officer and two of his children were killed in the crash of a private twin-engine airplane.

Hyaena kills girl at Christmas party

Continued from Page 1A
JOHANNESBURG, South Africa — A hyena attacked a villager who had been drinking at a Christmas party and killed a 10-year-old girl, according to reports reaching here yesterday.

Hotel owner confronts strikers

Continued from Page 1A
a slow-moving line of strikers. Some of the strikers hanging on the truck but there were no further problems.

Passenger buckled to stretcher is eased from wreck

Continued from Page 1A
Amtrak spokesman said that the passenger was treated for minor injuries, an Amtrak spokesman said.

Sen. Hart is dead

Sen. Philip Hart (D-Mich.), left, shown talking with Detroit Mayor Coleman Young during Democratic convention in July, died yesterday in his Washington home. He was 64, a victim of cancer. He attained recognition for his influence on civil rights and consumer legislation during three terms, and won colleagues' esteem as the "conscience of the Senate."

Sen. Philip Hart (D-Mich.), left, shown talking with Detroit Mayor Coleman Young during Democratic convention in July, died yesterday in his Washington home. He was 64, a victim of cancer. He attained recognition for his influence on civil rights and consumer legislation during three terms, and won colleagues' esteem as the "conscience of the Senate."

DEATH NOTICES

Classified Advertising

A-M-01 Death Notices
BALLARD, RICHARD ERNEST JR. 57, of 8825 S.W. 12th St., died Dec. 25, 1976. Burial at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, 13th and Miami. Rev. R. L. Lawrence, 13th and Miami, 444-3333.

HELLIWELL, PAUL H. 82, of 7700 S.W. 21st St., died Dec. 25, 1976. Burial at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, 13th and Miami. Rev. R. L. Lawrence, 13th and Miami, 444-3333.

DAVIS, JAMES EARL 62, of 2925 S.W. 12th St., died Dec. 25, 1976. Burial at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, 13th and Miami. Rev. R. L. Lawrence, 13th and Miami, 444-3333.

KLUMBRUD, LESTER O. 62, of 10000 S.W. 11th St., died Dec. 25, 1976. Burial at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, 13th and Miami. Rev. R. L. Lawrence, 13th and Miami, 444-3333.

KLUMBRUD, LESTER O. 62, of 10000 S.W. 11th St., died Dec. 25, 1976. Burial at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, 13th and Miami. Rev. R. L. Lawrence, 13th and Miami, 444-3333.

Carter a great one, just take it from me

Continued from Page 1A
dust settles after the power struggle for his job, the losers will close ranks. "Michael Bladie, Chicago's mayor committee chairman, is a smart and honorable man — is likely to take over the reins tomorrow, says Arvey.

Continued from Page 1A
Other "potential damage" he cited were the Middle East, Southern Africa, and conclusion of Israel's commitment of strategic arms — with the Soviet Union.

Continued from Page 1A
Arvey started slowly easing out of politics after seven months in defeat — "My doctor diagnosed hypertension" — though he continues his national committee until 1977.

Continued from Page 1A
Now his days are composed of shooting nine holes of golf at the Westview Country Club, playing bridge, keeping in touch with his Chicago law firm, plowing through volumes of mail that still come for him, and devouring books and magazines in his Imperial House apartment. He devotes considerable time to charities. His greatest lament is that "most of my dear friends are gone."

Continued from Page 1A
"Through the turbulent years, when many of his friends went to jail for corruption," Arvey said, "Daley's integrity was never questioned. He lived all his life in the same humble workshop at the same church. He loved people. He gave his life love.

Continued from Page 1A
"FRD had his faults," says Arvey. "He didn't act quickly enough against the Hitler outrages. He packed the Supreme Court. He had courage and he projected hope. In a time of depression he and people were jobless or throwing themselves out of windows, he was a Messiah."

Continued from Page 1A
The assault by the hordes of rats in the rice fields below the Guarcito Reservoir, which normally produce half of Venezuela's supply, have been called a national calamity. The rats eat their weight in rice each day.

Continued from Page 1A
The best mangled seven other persons before it was spared to death by the villagers, police in the Zambia capital of Lusaka were quoting as saying.

Paul Helliwell rites tomorrow

Services for Paul Helliwell, 62, a Miami lawyer instrumental in the purchase of the Disney World site in Central Florida, will be at 10 a.m. tomorrow in Lithgow Coral Way. Mr. Helliwell died Friday from a collapsed lung. He suffered from emphysema, and lost consciousness in his Coral Gables home, police said. Rescuers' efforts were in vain.

Continued from Page 1A
Ten years ago, Mr. Helliwell acquired much of the real estate southwest of Orlando where Walt Disney wanted to build an amusement park. Disney interests retracted, and lost consciousness in his Coral Gables home, police said. Rescuers' efforts were in vain.

Continued from Page 1A
Mr. Helliwell was a graduate of the University of Florida law school and had numerous business contacts. He was board chairman of banks in Perrine and Cutler Ridge, and was active in the insurance industry.

Continued from Page 1A
Funeral services will be at 11:30 a.m. tomorrow for James Allen Brown, 14, who died of carbon monoxide poisoning while attempting to sleep in the boiler room of a Hi-leah apartment complex.

Continued from Page 1A
Mr. Helliwell was a graduate of the University of Florida law school and had numerous business contacts. He was board chairman of banks in Perrine and Cutler Ridge, and was active in the insurance industry.

Continued from Page 1A
The youth had gone to the apartment building Friday night after he had planned to spend the night with a friend at another address in Hialeah where there was no room for him, his family said. His body was found Friday.

Continued from Page 1A
Ten years ago, Mr. Helliwell acquired much of the real estate southwest of Orlando where Walt Disney wanted to build an amusement park. Disney interests retracted, and lost consciousness in his Coral Gables home, police said. Rescuers' efforts were in vain.

Continued from Page 1A
James Allen was a student at Carol City Junior High School and a member of Boy Scout troop 529.

Continued from Page 1A
Mr. Helliwell was a graduate of the University of Florida law school and had numerous business contacts. He was board chairman of banks in Perrine and Cutler Ridge, and was active in the insurance industry.

Continued from Page 1A
The youth had gone to the apartment building Friday night after he had planned to spend the night with a friend at another address in Hialeah where there was no room for him, his family said. His body was found Friday.

Seven saved from sea after sailboat sinks

Continued from Page 1A
FORT LAUDERDALE — Seven people who spent 20 hours in two life rafts after their sailboat sank in the Atlantic are back home after being rescued by a passing cabin cruiser.

Money leads to death in labor camp dispute

Continued from Page 1A
A dispute over money led to murder yesterday at Tay-wabor labor camp, 26201 S.W. 138th Ct. Metro police reported that a struggle broke out between two men and one of them, identified by police as Jose Navajo Valdes, produced a knife and stabbed the other, described by police as the aggressor, but was not disclosed pending notice to relatives.

Money leads to death in labor camp dispute

Continued from Page 1A
A dispute over money led to murder yesterday at Tay-wabor labor camp, 26201 S.W. 138th Ct. Metro police reported that a struggle broke out between two men and one of them, identified by police as Jose Navajo Valdes, produced a knife and stabbed the other, described by police as the aggressor, but was not disclosed pending notice to relatives.

Freight Train packing them in

Continued from Page 1A
The steam-powered Freedom Train, a panorama of American history, will be here until Friday and has already been viewed by crowds estimated at 1,000 an hour. The train is at the Amtrak station at NW 22nd Street and Seventh Avenue. Admission is $2 for adults, $1 for children ages 3 to 12 and persons 65 or older, and free for children under 3. This is the last stop for the train before it returns to Washington from its bicentennial tour. It pulled in here Saturday.

Freight Train packing them in

Continued from Page 1A
The steam-powered Freedom Train, a panorama of American history, will be here until Friday and has already been viewed by crowds estimated at 1,000 an hour. The train is at the Amtrak station at NW 22nd Street and Seventh Avenue. Admission is $2 for adults, $1 for children ages 3 to 12 and persons 65 or older, and free for children under 3. This is the last stop for the train before it returns to Washington from its bicentennial tour. It pulled in here Saturday.

Elderly sleepwalker found dead in pool

Continued from Page 1A
Sleepwalking was blamed for the drowning of an elderly woman who fell into the family swimming pool. Metro police reported 77-year-old Cathy Monagle apparently was sleep-

Elderly sleepwalker found dead in pool

Continued from Page 1A
Sleepwalking was blamed for the drowning of an elderly woman who fell into the family swimming pool. Metro police reported 77-year-old Cathy Monagle apparently was sleep-

Elderly sleepwalker found dead in pool

Continued from Page 1A
Sleepwalking was blamed for the drowning of an elderly woman who fell into the family swimming pool. Metro police reported 77-year-old Cathy Monagle apparently was sleep-

Elderly sleepwalker found dead in pool

Continued from Page 1A
Sleepwalking was blamed for the drowning of an elderly woman who fell into the family swimming pool. Metro police reported 77-year-old Cathy Monagle apparently was sleep-

THE MIAMI NEWS is published daily except Sunday at Herald Plaza, Miami. City Dept. 392-2145; Police Dept. 392-2187; Sports 392-2462; Display Ad. 392-3000; Classified Ad. 392-2000; News Service 392-2000.

BALLARD, ROBERT ERNEST JR. 57, of 8825 S.W. 12th St., died Dec. 25, 1976. Burial at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, 13th and Miami. Rev. R. L. Lawrence, 13th and Miami, 444-3333.

DEATHS
KLUMBRUD, LESTER O. 62, of 10000 S.W. 11th St., died Dec. 25, 1976. Burial at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, 13th and Miami. Rev. R. L. Lawrence, 13th and Miami, 444-3333.

CHILBRICK The Child is a product of his own environment.